Special matinee for ladies tomorrow afternoon. Admission 25 cents.

A disastrous fire is reported to have occurred at Texico, Wednesday night, which destroyed a dozen structures, including the First National bank. The pecuniary loss was heavy.

More hypnotic wonders at the Duncan tonight.

There will be an exciting horse race at La Cuesta tomorrow. It will be run by horses belonging to Crescencio Gallegos and a man named Martinez. The wager is fifteen cows and $15 in cash. There is said to be much excitement there over the race and sheep and pelts and the skins of wild animals may yet be wagered on the result of the race.

"Alburtus" and "Arzullia" will close their engagement in this city tomorrow evening at the Duncan opera house.

Vivian Garcia, a sheep owner residing at Anton Chico, Guadalupe county, who recently froze his feet while driving his sheep to shelter in Colorado, may have to suffer amputation of both limbs, according to reports reaching here from that town today. He succeeded in saving all but fifty head of his fleecy fellows from the deadly ravages of an awful storm, but some of his neighbors lost heavily from their flocks.

The great Alburtus will give another exhibition at the Duncan tonight of his great ability in removing handcuffs and shackles, and also the locks and chains.

It Saved His Leg.

"All thought I'd lose my leg," writes J. A. Swenson, Watertown, Wis., "Ten years of eczema, that 15 doctors could not cure, had at last laid me up. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured it sound and well." Infallible for Skin Eruptions, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Boils, Fever Sores, Burns, Scalds, Cuts and Files, 25c at all druggists.

Prof. J. Earl Crites will entertain the audience at the Duncan this evening and tomorrow evening on the piano, assisted by Ernest Guerin on drums.

William Priest, of Newark, Ohio, who recently visited Las Vegas and is quite likely to come again and locate here permanently, has had a New Mexico mocking bird in the form of a burro shipped to him at his Ohio home. The docile little creature was crated and taken to the Wells-Fargo express office for shipment yesterday.

Not a minute that won't be taken up with amusement at the Duncan opera house.

LARRAZOLO INTERVIEWED

D. A. Larrazolo, first clerk of the district court in El Paso county, and who was the candidate opposing W. H. Andrews for congress at the last congressional election, spent a few hours in the city yesterday and last evening for San Elizario, where he will confer with Gaspar Giron and others whom he will defend in cattle cases that are to come up in the 34th district court on Thursday.

Larrazolo used to be district clerk and district attorney of El Paso. —El Paso Herald.

stance of which is the great fact that within the last two years the territory has added outright at least 50,000 settlers to her population, all of these settlers being of the actual and active farming class.

PLEASED AUDIENCE GREET'S HYPNOTIST

The crowd that gathered in the Duncan last evening to see the great Alburtus and Arzullia was greater than the night before. The evening's entertainment kept the audience in constant applause from the vaudeville sketch by Mr. Randolph and Little Shoreacres to the breaking of the huge rock on Arzullia's chest, which was a marvelous performance. R. W. Smith swung the sledge in an artistic manner.

Alburtus' subjects were increased last evening by some of the most prominent citizens. The acts which were conducted by the subjects while under Alburtus' power, were great and every one highly entertaining. The Las Vegas fire department act in which Chief O'Malley, Captain Phillips and others were represented by hypnotic subjects was the biggest hit of the evening. Many more amusing acts are in store for the performance this evening.

Arzullia continued with her wonderful mind reading, while under the power of Alburtus, and told many startling things, both personal and comical, many of which were true facts beyond doubt.

There is little doubt but that the Duncan will be packed to capacity this evening and tomorrow evening.
